You're originally from Vancouver. At what point did you know or decide that acting was your career path?

When I was in second grade, I did my first school play. From that moment on, I knew that performing was going to be a very big part of my life.

Looking over your resume, you've done a fair amount of film and television work. What type of roles do you tend to lean towards and which ones have impacted you the most?

I've really enjoyed the wide variety of roles that I've had the opportunity to play. I've been very fortunate that way. I enjoy physical roles where learning a certain set of skills is involved (martial arts, weapons training, horseback riding lol). I also enjoy comedic roles, that's something I would like to do more of.

Fans of Syfy's Lost Girl were beyond happy when you joined the cast. What initially drew you to the series?

Part of the draw for me, was that I'd not seen anything like it before on television. It was a really interesting premise. The Morrigan was such a fun and juicy character, I really couldn't resist.

On the show, you play the role of The Morrigan. What are the good and bad sides of her and what do you enjoy about bringing this character to life?

Bringing The Morrigan to life has been such a blast. The writers wrote some really fantastic stuff for me, so I was always excited to see what they would come up with next. As far as good vs bad.....she has a bad side????? Or is it that she's soooooo bad, she's good?????

You never know what you're going to get on Lost Girl. What can fans expect to see from The Morrigan and the rest of the cast on this final season?

You will definitely see a more vulnerable side to The Morrigan this season. You will also learn a little more about her past and gain some insight about why she has evolved into the person she is now. As for the rest of the cast, you'll have to ask them!

You look stunning in your Regard Magazine fashion spread! When it comes to fashion, who are your favorite fashion designers and styles in your closet?

My closet is filled with all kinds of designers. Every season I gravitate to different designers depending on what their collection has to offer, and if it appeals to me. I have everything from Gucci, Versace, Zak Posen, Dolce and Gabbana to H&M! I also love my good friend, Dalia MacPhee's designs which I often wear on the red carpet.

We look forward to seeing how things end up on Lost Girl. What other projects do you have coming up in the near future?

I am currently spending a lot of my time fundraising and planning my next Fluffball event for my foundation. We focus on raising money and awareness for various animal causes around the country. Also, I have the role of Niko on ABC's Mistresses coming up this summer.
